Meeting of the Central Reference Advisory Group

1. Paul Borel called today and said that he was trying to set up a date for the first meeting of the proposed Central Reference Advisory Group, and at this time he is planning tentatively on 7 January, 2:30 p.m. I mentioned that there is an NIS Committee meeting scheduled for that morning, but that I didn't think it would interfere with this afternoon meeting. He said that he would confirm it definitely by Friday of this week.

2. He also said that he had revised the draft which he sent to us on the budget policy for publication procurement. He said that he had just clarified some points that had been raised on the original draft, copies of which he sent to us, but the substance is not changed in any degree. I told him that if you had any other views as to the proposed meeting on the 7th, that you would pass them on to him when he calls you on Friday this week.
